PRESS RELEASE

IONISOS ACQUIRES LEONI STUDER HARD GMBH

Dagneux, France. November 3rd, 2016. IONISOS, the leading provider of cold sterilization services in France and Spain announced today that it has completed the acquisition of Leoni Studer Hard GmbH from Leoni Group.

Located in Bautzen (on the German-Polish border), Leoni Studer Hard GmbH operates state-of-the-art irradiation accelerator technology for the crosslinking of pipes and cables used in construction and automotive industries. The company was established in 2008 to serve key clients located in Germany, Poland and the Czech Republic.

"This acquisition is a strategic milestone for IONISOS, allowing the group to extend both its range of services and its geographical reach by entering the greater German market", said Michel GOMINET, President of IONISOS. "We see this acquisition also as a springboard for future growth opportunities, given its excellent location in Europe".

"We are delighted to complete this acquisition. It is an important step in the creation of a pan-European organisation", adds Laurent GAREAU, non-executive Chairman of IONISOS Board.

Since July 2016, IONISOS is a portfolio company of Ardian, the independent private investment company. "Having only recently acquired IONISOS, we are delighted to support this strategic acquisition. We are convinced that IONISOS is a strong platform for a buy-and-build story at a European level", said Francois JERPHAGNON, Chief Investment Officer at Ardian Expansion.
